

Indian Horoscope

Marco, the predictions and interpretations of Indian astrology are based on precise, regularly recurring cycles which hold the meaning of the diverse heavenly bodies responsible for our earthly existence. In particular, the moon plays an important role in this. The phases of the moon, which are also known as Tithis for example, give information about important currents of energy which decisively influence our thinking and emotions.

It is the Indian belief that we are embedded in a comprehensive system of cosmic laws which mold our existence and are able to explain our diverse feelings and judgments. There are many phenomena and manifestations that can't be explained with conventional rules of logic and rationality. We will only be able to understand them when we are willing to see them in context with the overall picture. Accordingly, the separating elements and the seemingly perceptible differences are not at the forefront of Indian astrology. Rather, it is in its unveiling and revelations that the Indian horoscope is more concerned with showing the common ground and similarities that were previously hidden from us.

You don't shrink away from unusual challenges or tasks as it is in your nature to be bold and courageous. Generally speaking, you don't make the mistake of plunging blindly into adventures - you are willing to weigh up matters more than others would and you check thoroughly before you start anything whether or not a commitment to the affair in question really is a good idea.

Once a positive decision has been reached one can be sure that you will go about persistently and untiringly to manage the work that lies before you. Your remarkable energy levels mean that even unpleasant side-effects or unforeseen difficulties cannot throw you off track. Marco, you know exactly what it is that you want to accomplish and therefore, in your view, turning back or giving up are absolutely out of the question.
